THE STORY

When this industry-leading medical waste company was moving their two corporate locations into one single office in the suburbs of Chicago, they looked to Office Revolution as their furniture partner and provider for their new space.

The floorplan of the new building encourages an open, collaborative office, which is much different than their previous workspace filled with high-paneled cubicles. We worked closely with Teknion engineers to create custom solutions that achieve the client's needs while also complimenting the aesthetic of the office. This involved incorporating Teknion Architectural Walls into the space as well to achieve a cohesive and modern feel.

Through our partnership and teamwork with the Lamar Johnson Collaborative, Savills Studley and Executive Construction Inc., we delivered a fast-track project that met the design, function, and budgetary needs at hand. The client was able to accomplish the move seamlessly and it's great to see them thriving in their new space!
